Individuals in business and industry and the professions and has gained national recognition for its outstanding program.

Asher explains that Republican Associates in no sense conflicts with existing Republican organizations and that most members are active in other clubs as well. Republican Associates have a program aimed at presenting the Republican party to segments of the community which are not now being touched.

Reservations for Thursday's luncheon may be made by calling either FR 8-4226 or FR 1-5521. Anyone interested in the meeting is urged to attend.

Torrance Grads
Awarded Grants
For Schooling

Two Torrance High graduates have been awarded scholarships to California Western University. The two are Richard H. Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Fisher, 2359 Maricopa Pl., and Tony J. Mavar, son of Mrs. Anthony Mavar, 369 14th St., San Pedro. Fisher will major in mathematics in the College of Arts and Sciences. Mavar has not chosen a major. Both were active in student affairs at the local high school.

The American Cancer Society says 170,000 Americans will be saved from cancer this year.

Gains
and Brains

Too much bravery in man makes a bully, but not enough a coward. Too much thrift makes a contemptibly mean man; not enough makes a foolish spendthrift. Too much speech in a man makes a bore; not enough a dullard. Too much hope makes a spectacular gambler; not enough a hermit and a man-hater. A delicate balance of many qualities make an honorable man.

mind after I have been on a few more rides."

Gary Mannan, 8, 1511 248th St.
"I like the people at the carnival. They are always a lot of fun to meet. I hope to see Chucko before I leave. My favorite ride, like my sister, is the flying coaster. But still the most fun is meeting the carnival people."

At Training Camp

Bill Willett, son of Judge and Mrs. O. B. Willett has returned from the Red Cross Training Camp at Camp Sealy near Crestline. Bill was a delegate from South High school.

Playground
Activities
Are Varied

Playground activities at the 223rd Street School will continue through Aug. 26. Two recreation leaders are at the playground during open hours to supervise the play in two groups. Activities are especially designed for children six to 12, but teenage events are also scheduled.

One of the main features of the activities is a recreational reading library for children under the direction of Mrs. Dick Larson. Other activities include story telling, crafts, folk dancing, movies, and special tournaments.

The school PTA provides treats from time to time for the children at the playground.

mended (1) the formation of specific goals for the type of city and community we aspire to. (2) Zoning controls that would guarantee the reservation of space and guidance of the land still available into a desirable land pattern and (3) industrial zoning that is developed to spell out the standards rather than the restrictive specifications."

"This program should set the standards by which any manufacturer could determine whether the processes which he used would be acceptable to any given area."

Nine other requests for zone changes and variances, already approved by the Planning Commission, also will be presented at the meeting Tuesday evening scheduled for Tuesday 8 o'clock.

ANOTHER SHOW... The Wood PTA series of summer shows will continue this week with an appearance of Walker Edmiston of the Little Rascals TV show. Edmiston will bring his puppet friends along for the two shows which will be at 1 and 1:45 p.m. next Wednesday in the Wood Cafeteria. Tickets will be sold at the door.

fit of the entire nation."

And then he expressed a philosophy heard often in underdeveloped countries.

"What is the use of liberty if you don't have a bank account?"

NOT APATHETIC

"Our people are not apathetic, they aren't relaxing or practicing metaphysics praying in the sun. They want to work and they want the tools to work with. You in the United States can expect to have a small percentage of unemployed. Yours is a rich country that can afford to make loans to help develop other friendly countries."

He recalled Greece's "Treaty of Association" with the European Common Market, signed only four months ago and hailed it as a step in the right direction, giving his country a hope that it might one day become a full member, with all the benefits of the rapidly expanding ECM.

Greece is ruled by a constitutional monarchy under a constitution adopted in 1911 and since amended several times. The executive power is vested in King Paul I and is exercised by his appointed ministers. Legislative powers are left to a parliament composed of 300 representatives elected proportionately for four-year terms.

POPULARITY GROWS

Growing in popularity as a tourist attraction, Athens and nearby islands seem to be enjoying a prosperity not shared by the rural areas of the peninsula, an area no larger than the State of Illinois. Popularity of this historic section of the world to tourists was expected to be enhanced by the visit of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

Greek scholars have a storehouse of interest in Athens but the average foreign visitor seems to center his attention on the magnificent ruins of the Acropolis. More recently the famous ruins have become a night attraction with "The Sound and Light" production when audiences may traverse ancient pathways to the Pyrex where from their seats they are entertained by varying plays of light on the Sacred Rock while listening to recorded historic texts and music in magnificent sound.

Youth Group
Touring in Mexico Now

Harry Sippel, 2914 Ohrado, is now on tour in Mexico and will return on July 30. The Christian Churches of Southern California have sponsored a high school workcamp and caravan to the Mountain of Light farm in Pabellon, near Aguascalientes, Mexico.

During their 18-day stay the youth will paint and repair buildings, complete an outdoor athletic area, and give assistance to the work of the missionary at the farm.

The tour will continue by train to the mission at San Luis Potosi, then to Mexico City for four days and to Guadalajara, where they will return to Los Angeles by air.

In addition to working at the farm and paying for their food and room while there, these high school youth have taken musical instruments, blankets and clothing for the people of the mission. Sippel will be available to community groups upon his return.
